of Very Wise Resignation Act A Forgivable Joke Which Everybody Must Read-Den Thompson and His Railroad Invention-Two Much Disgusted English Tourists at a Box Office.

T. D. Frawley has done a very wise thing, and he deserves commendation. He has resigned his part, that of Jack Deering, in "The Quick or the Dead ?" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. "My performance was very severely and adversely criticised," he said yesterday, "and I should like people to see that I can act. Before the 'Quick or the Dead?' was produced I went to the management and declared that I would give up my part, because I did not see a single line of situation in it that would redeem it. Mr. Durant said that my resignation at such a time would throw a damper on the piece. Well. I appeared. I hoped that I would have a chance to play my part in ' A Sad Coquette,' but Miss Clayton tells me that she intends to run the 'Quick or the Dead?' during her entire engagement at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. So I am getting out, It is the best thing to do."

Charles Frohman went to Rochester yesterday to see his sister-in-law, "The Wife" of Daniel Frohman, now playing in that city. This is meant to be an extremely sidecity. This is meant to be applitting joke. Ha! Ha!

In Alexander Comstock's office at the In Alexander Comstock's office at the Academy of Music stands a curious little model of a steam car upon iron rails. This is a model showing the working of a patent secured some fifteen years ago by Denman Thompson. Uncle Joshua has never done anything with it, but those who think he has forgotten make a very vast mistake. Mr. Thompson's idea embodied in this patent is that a double wheel and double track will avert all danger in case of what is known as a spreading rail. But he declares he will not go to the railroads. They will have to come to me," he said, 'and if they don't come soon I'll give the patent to one of two opposi-WINDSOIL Robert Buchanan's successful melodrama, Alone in London," was produced at the Windsor last night, with Ada Dwyer as the heroine. Miss liwyer's work was intelligent and sympathetic, and she won a great deal of well-deserved applause. Miss Marige Carr appeared as Tom Chickweed. The scenic effects were externely good.

THEATHE COMIQUE.

"One of the Old Stock" was produced at the Theatre Comique, Harlem, last night by Charles L. Davis. The play is fairly entertaining. A number of specialties in the shape of songs, dances and musical performances were introduced. "One of the Old Stock," does not differ very essentially from other plays in which Mr. Davis has been seen. THALIA THEATRE.

"Caspar, the Yodier," drew a large audience to B. H. Jacobs's Thalia Theatre last night, and Charles T. Eills delighted it with his ciever and variantle performance. Mr. Eills sings charmingly, and the interest in the piece is heightened by a thoroughly competent supporting company. Miss Ciara Moore was especially commendable.

KOSTER & BIAL'S. Mile. Ancion, fondly called "the Queen of the Air," was the novelty at Koster & Blat's last night. She did some apparently heardous feats in balancing, though she seemed quite at home on the trapeze. "Mile. Ancion is a snapely young woman, and she beamed upon the assembled dudes with a le that evidently rejoiced them.

GRAND OFERA-HOUSE.

W. T. Carleton appeared before many of his old friends last night with a new and strong opera company at the Grand Opera-House. The company was a good one in every respect, and in the opera presented, "Nanon," the title role was particularly well carried by delightful little Clara Laue. Encores were numerous during the evening, and Mr. Carleton was presented with a floral piece. "Nanon" again to-night and to-morrow might, and "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief" the rest of the week.

THE AMPHION ACADEMY. The new play by Denman Thompson and George Ryer, entitled "The Two Sistera," was presented at the Amphion Academy last night with all the advantages of new scenery, careful stage setting, electric lighting and excellent orchestration and before a fair-sized audience. Waile the plot was simple and hackneyed, the actors were above

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE. If applause may be a certain symbol of success, "The Stowaway," the larest English melodrama, which was produced at the Grand Opera-House is Brooklyn lass evening, is a great go. The play abounds in conventional situations, which off these mayor on the interest of the play abounds. abounds in conventional situations, which of times merge on the improbable; but the wealth of stage effects will alone make the piece successful, and, with its enlarged stage, the Grand proved an excellent piace to show them to advantage. Of the company, everything favorable can be said.

A new musical farce comedy was produced at the Criterion Theatre last high, called "Three Blind Mice." There was no clue offered as to the plot, and the audience soon gave up looking for it, and gave themselves up to the rollicking fun, with which the piece abounds. The amount of laughter contained in three sots can be imagined, when such names as Billy Rice, Burt Sheparl, Frank Howard and Saily Cohen appear in the company. Excellent work was also done by Richard O'Gorman and Ed Hefferuns. In the last act is introduced an old-time minstrel scene, in which Billy Rice appears with all the vim and humor of former years. His topical song. "Free Trade and Protection," was a great finale for the evening. PROCTOR'S CRITERION THEATRE. ZIPP'S CABINO.

Manager Gebhardt offered an attractive programme at Zipp's Casino last evening, and a large audience was on hand to prove that they appreciated that fact. The Manhattan Quartes have returned with new songs, and were warmly wel-comed. Minnie Schult sang "The Red Ban-danna" and "With All Her Paults I Love Her Still" with the usual flattering results. Among the new people are Phillis Allen, Hector Morris, Charles M. Earnest and Marie Hart.

HYDE & BERNAN'S. Redley & Wood's new show proved a great drawing eard at Hyde & Behman's last evening. The Vaids Sisters, who created a genuine sensation with "Mazulm" last season, form a very important feature of the entertainment, and their thrilling performance on the revolving trapeze was enjoyed by an audience large in numbers and generous in applicate. The company, headed by Pat Reilley, is a good one.

BOLMES'S STANDARD MUSEUM. Arizona Joe and Miss Clara Grear, in the sensa-tional meiodrams entitled "Black Hawk," proved attraction enough last evening to pack Holmes's Museum. The play is one calculated to please all classes and abounds in thrilling situations and ex-citing climates. Miss Clara Grear's musical se-lections were vigorously applanded. Arizona Joe did really clever work with the rife. There are a number of clever trained dogs and horses which form not an unimportant part of the show. JACOBS'S BROOKLYN THEATRE.

One of Mr. Jacobs's best companies presented Frank Harvey's powerful melodrama, "The Wages of Sin," at Jacobs's Brooklyn Theatre last evening. Mr. King Healey, as Stephen Marur, sid some clever work, and the natance of the company were good in their respective parts. In the cast were Thomas McCabe, F. W. Strong, J. K. Mortimer, Atelka Wardell, Carrie Rose Strong, Genevive Howard, Neily Donald Lemngwell and Mary Mills.

JACOUS'S LYCEUM THEATER. JACORS'S LYCKUM THEATRE.

T. S. Arthur's temperance drama "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was sufficient attraction to draw a good sized audience to Jacob's new Lyceum Theories last evening. The part of generous, good-hearted Sample bwitchal was well taken by E. W. Marston. The rather thankless role of Joe Morgan, the drunkard, was in the hands of Gustavus Clarke. Little Mamie Gitroy was the Mary Morgan. She and the rest of the company acquitted themseives creditably.

LEE AVENUE ACADEMY. LEE AVENUE AGADEMY.

Florine Arnold made her first appearance before a Brooklyn andience last night at the Lee Avenue Academy of Music in the comedy-drama "Her Husband." The play was written especially for Miss Arnold and tells the tale of a secret merriage between Paul St. Vincent and Marjory Lee, whose parents are sworn enemies. The piece was well staged and acted and made a decluded hit. The house was filled with a fashionable and appreciative audience.

sentence at the Concord Prison for a burglary committed in the Western part of this State, told him that no had broken into a jeweiry store in New York and secured from the safe booty to the amount of $30,000. Harvey was serving out a term of imprisonment himself and when he was about to be released Ray, who had six years longer to serve, gave liarvey a plan of the place where the money was hidden, directing Harvey to unearth and give a well-known lawyer in New York $5,000 worth of bonus in order to get him to come to Massachusetts and secure a pardon for Ray. Harvey says that recently he visited the place spoken of in company with a Medicid man who paid his way. They went to Yonkers, N. Y., and walked out into the country as indicated in the plan laid out by Ray. The farm of one Valentine was found, upon which the plan said the crockful of valuables was burled. The visitors found in different places on the land everything as indicated by Ray's plan. The place where the bonds and jeweiry were said to be hidden was between two oak trees. One formed a line with a stone wall on the Valentine estate, and the other was eight feet distant and standing within a few feet of the wall. The oak tree which formed a line with the wall was found in the position laid out on the plan, but the other tree could not be found. Where it ought to have stood a great heap of stones had been piled up.

Mr. Valentine was asked if he knew whether an oak tree hid stand on the spot, and that it had been cut down some years ago. In answer to Mr. Valentine's inquiries Harvey told him he was looking for a valuable dismond ring which the man who stole it said was burled there.

Harvey thinks a big pile of stones now covers the spot where the jeweiry lies buried, and that the stones.

AN UNKNOWN CHALLENGES DEMPSEY.

A Twenty-Four-Fost Ring, London Rules, and $1.000 a Mide. Jack Dempsey, the middle-weight champion the world, has been challenged to fight a battle in the orthodox (wenty-four foot ring, according to London rules, for $1,000 a side. A deposit of $250 has been posted by Billy Reed, Johnny Resgan's backer, and the following challenge issued:

To Whom P May Concern;
I have read that Jack Dempsey, the middle-weight To Whom It May Concern:

I have read that Jack Bempsey, the middle-weight champion, states that he will challenge Jake Kilrain, the champion, to fight for $1,000 a vide and the championship, provided the latter does not soon ratify a match with the unknown, and that Kilrain will, as stated by Dempsey, according to the traditions of the ring, have to make a match for $1,000. I was not aware that Bempsey was willing to fight for $1,000 a side, although I knew, according to the prize-ring code, that he is bound stoke according to the prize-ring code, that he is bound stoke so, but, as the champion is ready for battle, has not the reputation Kilrain can best of. I have deposited $750, and stand ready to match an unknown to mee: Dempsey, according to the London rules, for $1,000 a side. I will meet Dempsey or his backers at the Police Gaustic office Oct. IV, as 10 a. M., to arrange the proliminaries and sign articles.

It will suit the unknown and myself for the battle to take place within 1,000 miles of New York six weeks from signing articles. My money is up and shows that I mean bosiness, and if Dempsey has not been boseting lewil cover my money and arrange a match without any delay.

THE WONDERFUL CARLSBAD SPRINGS.

An Eminent Physician Reads a Paper of Great Interest Before the International Medical Congress.

At the Ninth International Medical Congress Dr. A

A. Toboldt, of the University of Pennsylvania, read a paper stating that out of thirty cases treated with ariabad Water and the Powder Carlabad Sprudsi Salt for chronic constipation, hypochondria, disease of the liver and kidneys, janudice, adiposis, diabete, dropsy children with marssmus, goot, rheumatism of the joints gravel, &c., twenty-six were entirely cured, three muclimproved and one not treated long enough. Averaging of treatment, four weeks. The Doctor claims, in time of treatment, four weeks. The Doctor claims, in conclusion of his paper, that the Carlsbad Mineral Water, as exported by the city of Carlsbad, being the natural product, is much to be preferred, where the quantity of water is no objection, particularly in dis-cases of the Stomach. Whenever the quantity of water tannot be taken the Powder Carlsbad Sprudof Sait (gen-tanticularly in discasses out the product of the Stomach. to be relied upon, independently of any adjuncts of treatment, such as diet and exercise, dc. "My experience with the genuine imported Carisbad Satt in powder form has been such that I may truly say that no remedy which I have employed has given me as much pleasure and profit as this particular one." The dose of Salt is a tempoonful three times a day dissolved in water. The GENUINE article is bottled under the supervision of the city of Carisbad, and has the seal of the city, and the signature of Eisner & Mendelson Co. on the neck of every bottle. All others are worthless imitations. The genuine is never sold in bulk. Liberated from their Fetters By the helpful, genial action of that most beneficent of aperients, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the bowels soon throw off the burden that paralyzed and weakened them, and resume their normal freedom of action. The action of the Briters, unlike that of average purgatives, involves no griping or drenching. If it did it would, like tham, be valueless for ordinary use. There is nothing ungentle or unnatural attending its operation. Upon the liver, no less than the bowels, its action is most besign, promoting a healthful billous secretion, and directing out of the wrong and into the right channel. Conjointly with costiveness, other billious symptoms disappear when it in out to the control of the iarial complaints, rheumatism, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles are completely relieved by it. penny, the disagreeable thing! Well, it's lucky I've got a husband to take care of me now, ain't it, Henry dear?"

Henry Gaynor did not answer; he literally could not. His tongue seemed to cleave to the roof of his mouth; every drop of blood in his body stood still. Had he sacrificed his youth and beauty and brilliant prospects for this? The gertle Emily had never looked as coarse and unattractive as she did at this moment, clinging caresaingly to his arm with all a wife's sweet confidence.

And then he remembered sweet Kate Tal-with all a wife's sweet confidence.

And then he remembered sweet Kate Talbot and thought vindictively of Rossmere Wylie.

"He knew—he must have knows that there were two Emily Monstressors," thought Gaynor, clenching his teeth, "He saw me walk into the trap, and never opened his lips to warn us. Oh, what a fool! what a double distilled blockhead I have been!"
